Design Experience

MIG, Inc., Berkeley, CA

Designer, Communications and Media Services Department,
October 2013–Present

I've led and collaborated on client deliverables from research, brainstorming, and concepts, to final designs. Lead designer on Clipper card account, improving brand standards across all materials. Only designer with hands on development experience and knowledge of human-centered design, bridging the communications and development teams. Incorporate user research and testing into the design process, increasing importance of overall experience in deliverables. Self-taught in Keynote, MailChimp, prototyping tools, and other skills and software to address client goals, making me a reliable, valued team member for help within the department.

Partial client list: Clipper card and Metropolitan Transportation Commission (MTC), California Department of Transportation (Caltrans), San Francisco Municipal Transportation Agency (SFMTA), RecycleSmart, Marin Clean Energy

Dial House, San Francisco, CA

Designer, March 2012–August 2013

Member of a two person creative team for brand strategy firm with a multi-national client list. Translated strategic concepts and research into visual presentations and deliverables, communicated in combinations of books, branding, packaging prototypes, films and creative campaigns. Curator and contributor to Dial House design blog, Find.See.Like., significantly increasing its followers.

Active Interest Media, San Francisco, CA

Designer, Yoga Journal Magazine Art Department,
March 2010–March 2012

Editorial designer for international magazine, circulation of 375,000 at time of employment. Conceptualized and designed front of book, Om Section, Product Pages, as well as other departments. Art directed photo shoots for Om, Product Pages, Basics and Home Practice columns. Assisted in the hiring and management of interns. Researched and assigned photographers, illustrators and stylists, expanding magazine contributors. Collaborated on the research and redesign of the magazine's March 2012 issue.

Oxford University Press, New York, NY

Part-time Design Assistant, Trade Art Department,
September 2009–February 2010
Assisted in the research, design, and production of Oxford book covers and jackets.
